2013 Medicare Parts A, B, C and D Deductibles and Premiums

The Part B Medicare deductible for 2013 is $147.00.

What should you do with this information? You should avoid taking a big financial hit in the first quarter of 2013 by collecting deductibles at time of service. How do you do that?

- Let all patients know in advance that you collect deductibles by making it part of your communication with them. Put it in your financial policy (get a copy of my preferred financial policy below), put it on your website, and let patients know when you schedule their appointment, or make an appointment reminder with verbiage like:

> "We look forward to seeing you at your appointment. Please bring your insurance cards and all medications to your visit. We will collect your co-pay, your deductible, and any co-insurance required by your insurance plan."

- Explain what a deductible is. Get my sample patient handout explaining deductibles below.
- Train front desk staff on deductibles and get them comfortable discussing deductibles with patients and answering their questions.
- Do not collect deductibles for Medicare patients who also have Medicaid, or for Medicare patients with supplemental insurance as there most likely will not be a balance that the patient will owe.

- It is ideal to use a Credit Card On File program to charge the patient's credit card at time of service, or when the EOB (Explanation of Benefits) arrives in 15 days.

Other important Medicare numbers for 2013

Part A: Hospital Insurance Premium for 2013– $441.00 per month. Most 65+ patients get Part A for free if they already receive retirement benefits from Social Security or Railroad Retirement due to taxes paid during working years. Part A includes coverage for:

- Inpatient care in hospitals
- Skilled nursing facility care
- Hospice care
- Home health care – skilled nursing care, physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech therapy, medical social services, dietary and home health aides (100% covered with no co-pay) for homebound patients after a 3-day hospital stay

Part B: Medical Insurance Premium for 2013 – $104.90 per month for most, but not all patients. Some patients automatically get Part B, others may have to pay more based on their IRS tax return from 2011. Part B includes coverage for:

- Services from doctors and other health care providers
- Outpatient care (includes emergency room and observation services for physician charges)
- Home health care – services provided to a homebound patient when the patient has not been hospitalized for 3 days prior to need

- Durable medical equipment
- Some preventive services

Part C: Medicare Advantage Plans – also called a Medicare Replacement Plan because it replaces traditional or original Medicare with a plan offered by a Medicare-approved private insurance company (BCBS, UHC, etc.) Premiums vary with individual Medicare Advantage Plans. Medicare Advantage Plans:

- Include all benefits and services covered under Part A and Part B
- Usually include Medicare prescription drug coverage (Part D) as part of the plan
- May include extra benefits and services for an extra cost
- Cannot be used in combination with a Medigap policy

Part D: Medicare Drug Coverage for 2013 – monthly premiums will vary based on income, and whether or not Part D is included if the patient opts for Part C coverage. Some plans have deductibles and some do not. Most drug plans have a coverage gap referred to as the "donut hole", which means coverage is temporarily limited after the patient and drug plan have spent a certain amount for covered drugs. In 2013, once the patient reaches the donut hole, they pay 47.5% of the plan's cost for covered name-brand drugs and 79% of the plan's cost for covered generic drugs until the end of the donut hole is reached. In every successive year after 2013, the donut hole will shrink until 2020 when the donut hole will cease to exist.

Medicare Supplement Insurance (also called Medigap) – Policies are sold by private insurance companies and help pay some of the health care costs that Medicare doesn't cover. Patients have a one-time 6-month Medigap Open Enrollment Period which starts the first month they are 65 and enrolled in Part B. This period gives patients a guaranteed right to buy any Medigap policy sold in their state regardless of their health status.

Medicare for 2010: Deductibles and Premiums Update

Medicare is a federal health insurance program created in 1965 for:

- people age 65 or older,
- people under age 65 with certain disabilities, and
- people of all ages with End-Stage Renal Disease (permanent kidney failure requiring dialysis or a kidney transplant)

Medicare Part A – 99% of patients don't pay a premium for Part A (hospital insurance) because they or a spouse already paid for it through their payroll taxes while working. The $1,100 deductible for 2010, paid by the beneficiary when admitted as a hospital inpatient, is an increase from 2009. Part A helps cover:

- inpatient care in hospitals (excluding the physician fees), including critical access hospitals
- skilled nursing facilities (not custodial or long-term care)
- some hospice care
- some home health care

Medicare Part B – Part B (outpatient/doctor insurance) base premium for 2010: $96.40/month (no change from 2009.) Premiums are higher for single people over 65 making more than $85K per year and for couples making over $170K. Part B premiums cover approximately one-fourth of the average cost of Part B services incurred by beneficiaries aged 65 and over. The remaining Part B costs are financed by Federal general revenues. In 2010, the Part B deductible is $155. Part B helps cover:

- physician fees in the hospital
- physician fees in their offices and other outpatient locations
- other outpatient services (x-rays, lab services)
- some services of physical and occupational therapists
- some home health care

Medicare Part C – Medicare now offers beneficiaries the option to have care paid for through private insurance plans. These private insurance options are part of Medicare Part C, which was previously known as Medicare+Choice, and is now called Medicare Advantage. Medicare Advantage expands options for receiving Medicare coverage through a variety of private insurance plans, including private fee-for-service (PFFS) plans, local health maintenance organizations (HMOs) and regional preferred provider organizations (PPOs), and through new mechanisms such as medical savings accounts (MSAs), as well as adding payment for additional services not covered under Part A or B.

Medicare Part D – Starting January 1, 2006, Medicare prescription drug coverage became available to everyone with Medicare. The so-called "doughnut hole" is the amount the patient pays between the initial coverage limit of $2,830 and the out-of-pocket threshold of $4,550 – a total of $1720 that the patient is responsible for.

- Initial Deductible: $310
- Initial Coverage Limit: $2,830
- Out-of-Pocket Threshold: $4,550

COMPARISON OF MEDICARE PLANS

Original Medicare Plan

WHAT? The traditional pay-per-visit (also called fee-for-service) arrangement available nationwide.

HOW? Providers can choose to participate ("par") or not participate ("non-par".) Participating providers accept the Medicare allowable and collect co-insurance (20% of the allowable.) Reimbursement comes to the providers. Non-participating providers may charge 15% more (called the "limiting" charge) than the Medicare allowable schedule, but the patient will receive the check, which is why some non-par practices require payment at time of service for Medicare patients. To be able to charge patients for non-covered services, patients must sign an ABN before the service is provided.

Original Medicare Plan With Supplemental Medigap Policy

WHAT? The Original Medicare Plan plus one of up to ten standardized Medicare supplemental insurance policies (also called Medigap insurance) available through private companies.

HOW? Medigap plans may cover Medicare deductibles and co-insurance, but typically will not cover anything Medicare will not. Medicare primary claims will "cross-over" to many Medigap secondary claims so the practice does not have to file the secondary Medigap claim. Patients may still have a small balance that is cost-prohibitive to bill for.

Medicare Coordinated Care Plan

WHAT? A Medicare approved network of doctors, hospitals, and other health care providers that agrees to give care in return for a set monthly payment from Medicare. A coordinated care plan may be any of the following: a Health Maintenance Organization (HMO), Provider Sponsored Organization (PSO), local or regional Preferred Provider Organization (PPO), or a Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) with a Point of Service Option (POS).

HOW? You have to have signed a contract or be grandfathered in (called an "all-products" clause) under an existing contract to see patients and get paid. Primary care providers may have to provide referrals and/or authorization for specialty services and providers. A PPO or a POS plan usually provides out of network benefits for patients for an extra out-of pocket cost.

Private Fee-For-Service Plan (PFFS)

WHAT? A Medicare-approved private insurance plan. Medicare pays the plan a premium for Medicare-covered services. A PFFS Plan provides all Medicare benefits. Note: This is not the same as Medigap.

HOW? Most PFFS plans allow patients to be seen by any provider who will see them. PFFS plans do not have to pay providers according to the prevailing Medicare fee schedule or pay in 15 days for clean claims. Providers may bill patients more than the plan pays, up to a limit. It would be a good thing to notify patients if your practice intends to bill above the plan payment.
